

2023-2024 Online College Courses with Cayuga Community College

FALL 2023

BIO 203 Anatomy & Physiology I with Cayuga CC - 4 college credits

Prerequisite: BIOL 100, 101, 103 or 80% or better in Living Environment or equivalent class and 80% or better on the Living Environment regents.

Human cells, tissues, skeleton system, muscle physiology, nervous system, special and somatic senses.

In order to offer, Districts must provide a teacher of record that will work with a CCC faculty member. The teacher of record should be a BIO teacher that will oversee the students in the course. Students must be disciplined, motivated and successful in Living Environment. This course is an extremely rigorous course and expectations are high. Available to Seniors and Accelerated Juniors. Delivered Online Asynchronously

BUS 103 Principles of Business with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

Overview includes foundations of American business, forms of enterprise, organizing for business, fundamentals of management, the production of goods and services, human relations, union-management relations, marketing, accounting, finance, money and banking, securities and investments, government relations and business law. Delivered Online Asynchronously

COMM 130 Human Communications with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

This course introduces students to communication studies. It surveys topics in human perception, language, relationships, face-to-face, and mediated communications. Models for effective communication are explored in various contexts and cultures. Delivered Online Asynchronously

PSY 101 Introductory Psychology with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

Basic orientation to the psychology of human behavior. Studies the aims and methods of psychological investigation and measurement, and biological and social influences on behavior. It also focuses on learning, motivation, emotion, perception, and personality development.

Delivered Online Asynchronously

TELC 176 Video Game Design with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

Introduces the student to the development and design of video games. Students will design and develop basic video games. Students will learn to prepare a game plan in developing their games and create game environments such as action games, maze games and multiplayer games. Students will learn to use sprites, objects, events and actions and sounds in game development. They will also learn game mechanics, interactivity controls, level design, game variable adjustments, game behaviors, creating computer-based opponents and methods for making games challenging to prospective players. Students will be introduced to software used to create original game resources such as objects, sounds and visual elements. Finally students will be able to post their completed games online to share with others. Delivered Online Asynchronously

INTERSESSION 2024

HLTH 104 Personal Health with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

An in-depth course in maintaining lifelong good health examines emotional health, drug education, family health, personal fitness, disease, consumer, and environmental health. Delivered Online Asynchronously

2023-2024 Online College Courses with Cayuga Community College

SPRING 2024

BIO 204 Anatomy & Physiology II with Cayuga CC - 4 college credits

Prerequisite: BIOL 203

Continuation of the study of human anatomy and physiology. Topics include circulatory, respiratory, urinary, endocrine, reproductive and digestive systems and water, electrolyte and pH balance. In order to offer, Districts must provide a teacher of record that will work with a CCC faculty member. The teacher of record should be a BIO teacher that will oversee the students in the course. Students must be disciplined, motivated and successful in Living Environment. This course is an extremely rigorous course and expectations are high. Available to Seniors and Accelerated Juniors.

Delivered Online Asynchronously

BUS 232 Introduction to Social Media Marketing with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

This course provides an overview of how social media has drastically changed overall marketing strategies and how companies are embracing social media to enhance customer relationships, brand awareness, and market share. Students will explore the types of social media tools such as (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, YouTube, Instagram, Google, etc.) and learn strategies to implement these tools in an overall marketing plan. Students will use case studies and real-world examples to explore current examples and future opportunities of how marketing professionals have capitalized on these social media strategies Delivered Online Asynchronously

ECON 102 Personal Finance with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

For students who desire knowledge in managing their personal finances. Topics include budgeting; saving; borrowing; home purchasing; automobile purchasing; life, auto, and home insurance; health, disability and retirement programs; estate planning; and investing. Delivered Online Asynchronously

PSY 212 Developmental Psychology - Life Span with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

Prerequisite: PSY 101

Introduction to the foundations of human development across the lifespan. Developmental processes and issues characterizing various stages of aging are studied, with attention to the interrelationships of the various stages and intergenerational issues.

Delivered Online Asynchronously

SOC 101 Introductory Sociology with Cayuga CC - 3 college credits

Introduces sociology as a science concerned with relationships, institutions, organizations, and the physical environment. Outlines the major theories as a basis for sociological perspectives on social issues. Covers the origins of sociology as a science, diverse patterns of social organization from a global perspective, the nature and substance of cultural systems and social institutions, and sociological perspectives in analyzing trends in human society.

Delivered Online Asynchronously

QUESTIONS CAN BE ANSWERED BY SCHOOL COUNSELORS OR BY CONTACTING:

Margaret Colella Lead eLearning Specialist

Cayuga-Onondaga BOCES • 1879 W. Genesee St. Rd., Auburn, NY 13021 • P: 315.255.7653 • E: mcolella@caybooces.org